

How Beauty Pageants Affect Women's Self-esteem

By Sahasra, Savya and Surabhi

What is a Beauty Pageant?

- It is a competition traditionally focused on judging and ranking the physical attributes of the contestants
- Some popular beauty pageants include Miss World, Miss Universe, Miss International, and Miss Earth

The Pros of Beauty Pageants

- Skill Development
- Public Speaking
- Charitable Endeavors
- Cultural Exchange
- Personal Accomplishment

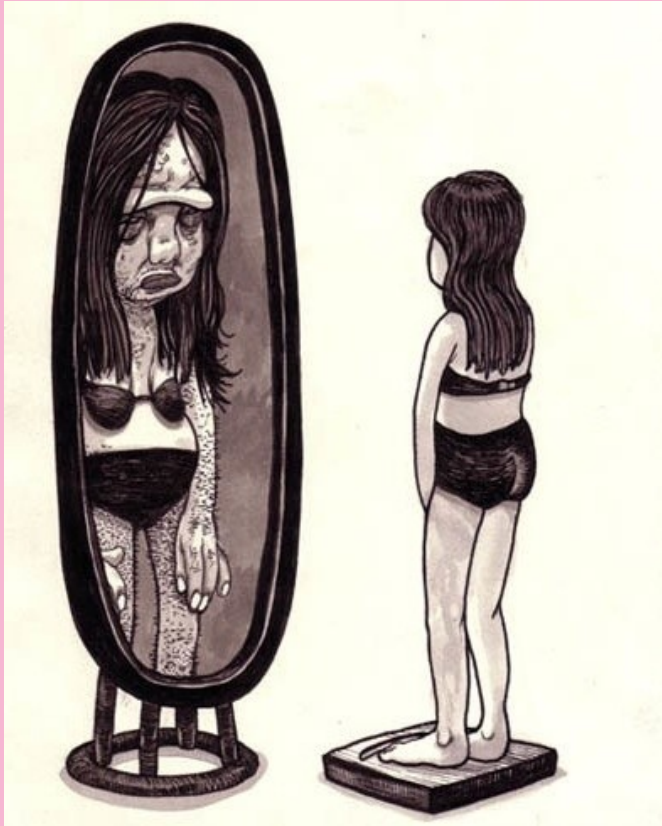

The Cons of Beauty Pageants

- Objectifies/Sexualizes Young Women
- Body Dysmorphia
- Toxic Work Place
- Exploitation
- Eating Disorders
- Promotes Stereotypes

How do Beauty Pageants affect a Women's Self-esteem

- It primarily focuses on a woman's appearance
- They become victims of public body shaming
- They spend hours in front of mirrors trying to fit into unrealistic beauty standards
- These contests have eligibility restrictions on age, marriage, and pregnancy

Conclusion and Call to Action

- Promote diverse beauty standards that celebrate various body types, ethnicities, and appearances
- Teach individuals, especially young women, to critically analyze media messages and question narrow beauty standards
- Celebrate media that showcases women's achievements, talents, and contributions beyond physical appearance
- Be an advocate for change and challenge harmful beauty norms whenever possible

Thank You